2012
DAMBAR SINGH & SETI RASALI AWARD

Deadline:
8th April 2012

Purpose

In memory of his grandparents, Dr. Drona P. Rasali has established Dambar Singh and Seti Rasali Award at Professional Development and Research Center (PDRC). This award is established as an incentive to encourage talented Dalit youths to actively engage in a scholarly study of social, political and economic issues of Dalits from inter-disciplinary perspectives. This award will be given annually for three years to a student enrolled M.A. first year in Sociology in any recognized university in Nepal. The PDRC now invites application from eligible candidate for the year 2012.

Selection criteria

This is purely a merit-based award. This award will be given to a student from a Dalit community, who has scored highest marks in B.A. In addition, the student must be enrolled in the first year of M.A. In Sociology/ Anthropology. Women candidates are encouraged to apply.

Application requirements

The application must consist of the following materials;

1. The transcript of B.A.
2. Letter of recommendation from the current College/University
3. The statement of purpose (SoP) that signifies who you are, what has influenced your career path so far, and where do you see yourself ten years down the line.
4. One passport-sized photograph

Award Prize

The winner of the award will receive;

- Cash prize of Rs. 10,000.00*
- Letter of appreciation
- Free enrollment in PDRC's "Academic and Intellectual Discourse on Dalit"
- Feature on the PDRC's website, Social Networking sites
- Opportunity to read his/her SoP in a gathering

Application Deadline

The closing date for entries is April 8, 2012, with the winners being announced at an award ceremony, at PDRC on 13 April, 2012.
